Explore Egypt by Sea Aboard the ‘Charming Small Ship’ Arion

New short sea cruises around Egypt and Jordan have been released for Australians and New Zealanders keen to sail aboard Classic International Cruises’ intimate liner, Arion - the smaller fleet-mate to Australia’s own Athena.

Described by the ‘Bible of Cruising’ – the Berlitz Guide to Cruise Ships – as ‘a charming little ship with character, a relaxed ambience and a warm and friendly crew’, the 328-passenger Arion will offer a series of five and seven-night cruises from Alexandria in Egypt in February and March, 2010.

The voyages feature visits to the sun-drenched beach resorts of Sharm-El-Sheik and Port Said in Egypt and Aqaba in Jordan, Safaga near the ancient Egyptian ruins of Luxor and a cruise through the desert-lined Suez Canal.

There are seven departures from February 14 (Valentine’s Day) to March 28, 2010, with fares available from $1190 per person, twin-share, for a five-night cruise, and from $1663 per person, twin-share, for a seven-night journey. Fares include taxes. *

The 6000-ton Arion is based in Europe as a smaller fleet mate to Classic International Cruises’ traditional, 16,000-ton flagship, Athena, which offers cruises from Western Australia and South Australia each summer.

Founded in 1982, Classic International Cruises carries 100,000 passengers a year, with the five-ship fleet offering cruises in Europe, the UK, South America and, since 2004, Australia.
